Cincinnati 12, Boston 1.
Boston, July 7.—Cincinnati defeated Boston yesterday in a 12-inning game. There was much ragged fielding and poor pitching. Flaherty, whose home run in the ninth sent King around ahead of him, misjudged Severoid's fly in the twelfth and two men crossed the plate. Boston scored one in her half, but a double play with the bases full, followed by an out at first base, prevented the locals from tying the score again.

GOVERNOR ACCEPTS NO PROFITS FROM THE STATE

Salem, Ore.—Voucher for payment for Governor West's portion of the block north of the state capitol in which the new state house is to be built was drawn yesterday. The appraisers valued Governor West's holdings at $10,000, but the governor declined to accept more than $500, which represented his original investment plus street improvements.

HOBBLE SKIRT DOOMED.

Congress of Women's Tailors Say American Girl's Figure too Pronounced.

New York.—The deliberations of the congress of 600 ladies' tailors from all over the United States ended last Saturday, but the committee on styles is still hard at work and from the mystery that broods over its secret sessions the following decrees shortly will be hatched:
The hobble is dead. The skirt of your autumn tailored suit will be from two to two and one-quarter yards around. It will clear the ground three inches—not five as last year. It will be plain—no plaits. The coat will be longer, covering the hips. It will be tight fitting, but cut in the general style of the semi-fitting garment, with only five seams. It will have a wide, soft collar. It will be "ravenswing" blue in color and will be trimmed with Egyptian gold.
"The committee on styles is preparing some fall suggestions," said James B. Blaine, president of the association.
"The American tailor can suggest; it is for the American woman to adopt or reject. But it is to be hoped she will realize sooner or later that the American tailor knows her requirements and her figure far better than any tailor in London or Paris can know them."
"French women are slighter, less evenly developed than American women. It is possible for them to wear a hobble skirt without looking ridiculous. The American woman cannot do this. She is too well developed. Her hips are too prominent and her stride is too long and free for the hobbled effect."

TIME TO LEAVE.

A Philadelphia clergyman who is something of a wag, tells this story of a brother minister, with whom he recently attended a convention in Washington:
"The conductor on a street car on which we were riding one day," he said, "was most apparently of English birth. We had hardly seated ourselves when I was attracted by his pronunciation.
"Halt street," he called shortly after we were seated.
"Hi," was the next call. Then followed "J" and "K." At this juncture my companion got up.
"I'm going to get off here," he said. "I can't stay to hear the next."

ONE ATLANTIC CITY TROUBLE.

Bathhouse partitions are not sound-proof, and consequently a sweet female voice full of dismay was plainly heard at Atlantic City on Sunday afternoon, says the Philadelphia Telegraph.
"Oh, Laura," cried the voice, evidently addressing her girl chum in the adjoining house. "I have forgotten my shoe horn! Have you one that you can loan me?"
"What's the matter," queried a deep bass voice a few yards away before Laura could reply; "can't you get your hobble skirt on?"

EUROPEAN NEWS AND VIEWS.

London.—King George and his Queen have yet before them about two weeks more of ceremonial visiting before the end of the coronation program will be reached. Today and tomorrow will be given over to the royal visit to Ireland. Their Majesties arrive at Kingston on board the Victoria and Albert, following which they will be entertained by the lord lieutenant. A drive to Dublin, the opening of the Royal College of Science, a visit to Phoenix Park races and a dinner at the castle complete this part of the week's program. Sunday will start another week with the attendance at service at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Then the King Queen will visit the Artisan Industrial school and inspect the pensioners and girls at Drummond Institute.

There will be receptions, presentations, addresses and visits of all sorts during the following week until Wednesday when the King and Queen leave for Carnarvon where the investiture of the Prince of Wales takes place next Thursday.

Edward Black Prince.

Though following so closely upon the coronation of his father, the investiture of the Prince will lose nothing of its importance, for King George himself will take a conspicuous part in the ceremony. Ten thousand cheering Welshmen will witness the event, for Edward Albert will be the first Black Prince to receive the investiture on Welsh soil in hundreds of years. Carnarvon castle, where the ceremony will take place is intimately associated in every turret and gateway with some of the most stirring chapters in Welsh history. The town is perhaps more typically Welsh in its externals, its customs and its people than any other place of like size in the whole of the principality.

Dog Beauty Doctors.

All the world may read what beauty doctors advertise that they can do for men, and women. In Paris the dog is also looked after. A veterinary surgeon sends out a prospectus in which the following list of charges is drawn up:
Alteration of the shape of the muzzle, 50 francs.
Insertion of wrinkles on the face of a bull-dog, 80 francs.
Change of the size of the tail, 20 francs.
Removal of superfluous hair, 5 francs an hour.
Change of the color of the skin, 30 francs.

Explore Babylon.

Exploration in the ancient city of Babylon is proceeding and the last report of the German Orient Society gives interesting particulars of it. The palace of Nebuchadnezzar is being laid bare in all its vastness and the line of fortification of the heights on which the palace stood is now almost completely traced. The streets and private dwellings lying round the foot of the hill are being cleared. Among other finds is a small temple, the work of Nebuchadnezzar, beautifully built, in apparently perfect preservation and still showing the black and white color scheme characteristic of the Assyrians.

Knows His Visitors.

People presented to King George are always astonished and not less flattered to know that he knows all about them, their family and their achievements. He puts some kindly question that shows intimate knowledge. The explanation lies in the card index. Nobody has access to the King without an appointment or an invitation, so that he has always time to consult the card index and to know precisely what the person he is going to meet has done.

HAD NOTHING ON HIM.

Rabbi Joseph Silverman, the noted Jewish pastor of New York, tells an amusing anecdote of an Englishman and a Scotchman who were bragging in loud tones.
"Me man," said the Britisher, "taint' hotten a person his token fer royalty, but I've been mistook fer the Prince o' Wales in me younger days."
"Hoot, mon," answered the Scot, "I myself, have been called the Duke of Argyll!"

MAD HEN FIGHTS PIGEON.

Mistakes Exhausted Bird for Hawk and Defends Her Brood.
Bristol, Pa.—An exhausted homing pigeon, alighting for rest and food here recently, had the time of its life, as it was mistaken for a hawk and came near being killed by a hen defending her brood of little chicks.
Hearing unusual commotion in his back door yard, Harry Hartman rushed out of the house to see the old mother hen attacking the pigeon most ferociously.
He rescued the bird of passage and found upon a band on one of its legs the registered number $17,759. It is a black and white bird and will recover from the ugly wounds left by the mad old hen.

WASHINGTON TO BE A PERFECTLY NOISELESS CITY

Washington.—Efforts now under way to make the National Capital a "noiseless city" have been given an impetus by the Interstate Commerce Commission through an order signed recently requiring two electric railroads to take from service all cars that make "screeching noises."

Complaints have been made by citizens throughout the city to the police department that unnecessary noises disturb their sleep. A general campaign for the doing away with all slumber disturbances has been launched. The police have been ordered to maintain quiet throughout the nights. Midnight revellers are no longer permitted to sing, whistle or make any demonstration whatever.

TO ABANDON POSTS.

Four and Possibly Six Small Ports in Northwest Will Close.

Washington.—That at least four, and possibly six, military posts in the Northwest are to be abandoned in the near future, was asserted today by General Wood, chief-of-staff, in the hearing before the house committee to investigate expenditures of the war department. The posts to be abandoned are those smaller than brigade and regimental posts, and abandonment is the first step in a policy leading to the concentration of the army in a few large posts on trans-Atlantic lines convenient for rapid mobilization.

The order to abandon will not be issued until it is necessary to move troops to Panama and Hawaii, where eight or ten regiments will be sent for garrison duty. Boise Barracks and Fort Meade, S. D., are two posts slated for abandonment, in addition to Fort Assiniboine, Mont.

PAVES WAY FOR HOMESTEADERS

Land Patents May Now Be Secured Four Months After Proof.

Washington, D. C.—Homestead and desert land patents may now be obtained in four months after final proof is made, provided there is no contest or other contingency. "This is the quickest time in which the work of issuing patent could be done under any circumstances," said Commissioner Dennett today, "and is a result of bringing the work of the office up to date for the first time in a number of years."

TRUTHFULNESS IN ADVERTISING

The dominant chord in the addresses on Tuesday to the advertisers of the Pacific coast was truthfulness and honesty.

This dominance of the ethical element in a great business is as refreshing as a drink from a mountain spring on a scorching day of summer.

It strikes an accordant note with Mr. Roosevelt's assertion years ago that he believed that American business men, as a class, are fundamentally honest.

The Pacific Coast Advertising association put itself squarely, if unofficially, on record as holding that "honesty is the best policy." Its members denounced deliberate misrepresentation, fraudulent methods and the wrongful policy as to advertising that is followed by "many daily newspapers."

President Dobbs of the Associated Ad Clubs of America hit nails on the head and hit with the straight, hard blow that drives them home and fastens them firmly.

"The old-time salesman," was his cheering information, "with his free cigars and unmentionable stories, is passing away. It is well. The modern salesman needs no such methods. His word is as inviolate as the signed contract of the head of the firm."

The advertiser should tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. No advertisement costs so dearly as that which misleads a customer and costs the loss of his and other people's patronage.

The association has done a great service in emphasizing these fundamental facts. —Spokesman-Review, Spokane.
